

Call for entries: Pennsylvania Women's Press Association 2019 Excellence in Journalism Awards

Monday, Jan. 28, 2019 -- The Pennsylvania Women's Press Association is now accepting entries for the 2019 Excellence in Journalism Awards.

Each year, the contest recognizes the outstanding work of the organization's members and other Pennsylvania journalists across 21 categories, including general news and feature reporting, photography, page design and multimedia projects. A complete list is available here: www.pwpa.us/contest/rules-and-categories.

The contest is open to PWPA members and non-members of all genders whose work is published in Pennsylvania newspapers or on news websites that cover issues or people within Pennsylvania and follow conventional print journalism standards and practices. The Student Reporter category also is open to college students.

To enter, fill out the contest entry form, powered by Google Docs, here: bit.ly/2019PWPAContest. The link to the form and detailed rules and entry information also can be found on PWPA's website at www.pwpa.us/contest.

Entry forms, emails and fees must be submitted by 11 p.m. Friday, Feb. 22, 2019.

As in the past, winners will be recognized at PWPA's annual awards luncheon on May 18, 2019, at the Hilton Harrisburg, as part of the Pennsylvania Press Conference. The Journalist of the Year, the top winner among those who earn 10 or more points for awards in individual categories, will receive a $250 prize and a plaque.

PWPA looks forward to celebrating a wonderful year of work with all of its members and journalists across the state.

If you have any questions, please contact PWPA Contest Director Jo Ciavaglia at pwpa.contest@gmail.com, or PWPA President Jenny Wagner at wagnerjenny8400@gmail.com.